

WHATS GOING ON WITH CBD?

The legality of CBD is tricky. The 2018 Farm Bill made CBD derived only from hemp legal in all 50 states if and only if that hemp has less than .3% THC and is produced in a manner consistent with the farm bill, associated federal regulations, associated state regulations, and by a licensed grower. ¹

Aside from Epidiolex, an FDA approved medication to treat severe forms of epilepsy, there is no approved CBD product or effective therapeutic dose for any medical condition. ²

Buyer beware! CBD products bought online and in stores are not federally regulated for purity or potency. Therefore, they can contain higher levels of CBD or THC than labeled and may contain contaminants that are dangerous to the human body. ³

Research has shown that CBD can have adverse interactions with other medications such as blood thinners. It can also put people at an elevated risk for liver damage and developing suicidal behaviors. ⁴

This year, the Federal Trade Commission joined the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in sending warning letters to four companies who falsely marketed their products containing CBD to treat and cure a variety of serious diseases and conditions, including cancer. ⁵
